Tollway Names New Executive Director

Elizabeth "Liz" Gorman was officially named the Illinois Tollway's new executive director today.

Ms. Gorman replaces Greg Bedalov, who resigned last week. Bedalov accepted a new job with the Illinois Sports Facility Authority. Friday was his last day on the job.

Ms. Gorman previously held office as a member of Cook County's Board of Commissioners from 2002 until 2015, when she resigned to start a job in the private sector. From 2007 to 2008, Gorman was chair of the Cook County Republican Party, and she still serves as the party's committee member for Orland Township, where she currently resides.

IRTBA welcomes Ms. Gorman and looks forward to continuing our close working relationship with Illinois Tollway leadership and staff.
